"Fact & Fiction: The Truth Behind Classic Cinema"

FITZCARRALDO — Werner Hertzog

Werner Herzog's fascinating film tells the story of an impresario's obsession to take his opera boat up the Amazon River and haul it over a mountain into Peru where he plans to have the great Caruso perform. Klaus Kinski and Claudia Cardinale star in this legendary production made against epic, dare we say, operatic odds. One of Herzog's most ambitious and impressive works for which he won Best Director at Cannes. Werner Herzog---West Germany---1982---157 mins.
