

Lecture is free and open to the public
thanks to gifts from:

Platinum Sponsor:
Missouri State University
Public Affairs
Grant Program

Gold Sponsors:
University Libraries
Graduate College
COB
CHPA
CNAS
COAL
COE

Tuesday, April 02, 2013 Carrington Auditorium 7:00 PM

Students For a Sustainable Future Present:

Dr. Eban Goodstein

Director for Bard College's MBA program in Sustainability and Bard Center for Environmental Policy

Good Work for Hot Times: Sustainability Leadership in Business and Policy

Missouri State University

Missouri State University

College of Natural and Applied Sciences

901 South National Avenue
Temple Hall 142
Springfield, MO 65897

Phone: 417-836-5249
www.cnas.missouristate.edu

Dr. Goodstein is an economist, author, and environmental educator known for his work in the clean energy movement, and for his climate education events, which have engaged over 2500 colleges, universities, high schools and other institutions in solutions-driven dialogues about global warming and climate change. Dr. Goodstein holds a B.A. in Geology from Williams College and a Ph.D. in Economics from University of Michigan. His research has been featured in The New York Times, Scientific American, Time, Chemical and Engineering News, The Economist, USA Today, and The Chronicle of Higher Education. He serves on the editorial board of Sustainability: The Journal of Record, and is on the Steering Committee of Economics for Equity and the Environment. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Follett Corporation, and is on the advisory committee for Chevrolet's Clean Energy Initiative.