

Get an Education not Just a Degree! Within the last few weeks I have talked to employers who were disappointed about company night turnout, disappointed with the number of internship applicants, and disappointed with the number of scholarship applicants. Rather than preach about "get an education not just a degree" I will simply state, "If you do not take advantage of the opportunities now when you perhaps do not need them, they will not be available when you do need them". See opportunities below...
