

National Geography Awareness Week

November 16th through 20th

Join us for a week-long celebration of Geography and the Geo-Sciences with special focus on the Global Ocean!

All presentations are 3:30 - 4:30 pm in Temple 001.

Mon, Nov 16: Around the World as a Solo Sailor: Sustainability and Responsibility on the High Seas with David Rearick, Retired Businessman and Intrepid Adventurer

Tues, Nov 17: Ocean-Front Property in Missouri? The Future of Rising Sea Levels and Climate Change with Dr. Toby Dogwiler, Department Head, Geography, Geology and Planning

Wed, Nov 18: A Social and Environmental Synthesis for Urban Sustainability: Watching St. Louis from Space for the Last 40 Years with Dr. Wasit Wulamu, Center for Sustainability, Saint Louis Univ.

Thurs, Nov 19: From A(sia) to B(altimore): How the Panama Canal Expansion is Changing How We Get Cheap Stuff with Dr. Timothy Brock, Department of Geography, Geology and Planning

Fri, Nov 20: Coral Reef Conservation, Fish Sanctuaries, and Geotourism in Jamaica with Dr. Bob Pavlowsky, Department of Geography, Geology and Planning