

MSU Religious Studies Internship with The Ozarks Race and Faith Collaborative through The Council of Churches of the Ozarks

The Ozarks Race and Faith Collaborative is an emerging movement that seeks to improve the understanding of race and race relations among people of faith in the Ozarks. The founding core of the collaborative includes representatives of the Council of Churches of the Ozarks, the Springfield City Manager's office, the MSU Center for Diversity and Inclusion, the Center for Diversity and Reconciliation, and clergy already active in the community in matters related to improving race relations. Additionally, the intern will also work with other agencies and organizations working toward social justice and, particularly, racial equality.

Interested? Visit <http://www.missouristate.edu/relst/CCOInternship.htm> for information and application, or contact LoraHobbs@missouristate.edu

Preference is given to Religious Studies majors, but minors will also be considered.